

About NACD

The National Association of Conservation Districts serves conservation districts by providing national leadership and a unified voice for natural resource conservation. Our 3,000 member conservation districts and our individual members help local people protect and conserve America's land, water, forests, wildlife and related natural resources. Our work results in clean air, clean water, healthy habitat and productive soil.

As a national voice for conservation districts, NACD supports a voluntary, incentive-driven natural resource conservation approach that benefits all citizens.

In short, NACD:

- Represents America's 3,000 conservation districts
- Serves as a voice for districts on Capitol Hill
- Provides information, tools and training to districts
- Builds partnerships and coalitions.

You too can be a part of NACD's efforts. Join our Friends of NACD program today and help us serve as America's Voice for Natural Resources Conservation.
